For more than twenty years Weil Industrieanlagen GmbH has been dealing with water treatment. Our task is to return to the water what threatens to get lost: its purity.

With the trademark ROWA, which was previously an independent company, you will get the industrial know-how for aquaristics, hobby, zoo, etc. In the field of aquaristics ROWA has been leading internationally in the pet (zoo) specialized trade. Many large pet (zoo) specialist dealers and large aquariums trust us, where high requirements are set to good water quality or where special water treatment problems have to be mastered.

Furthermore ROWA products are also indispensable with water and art objects. Both for room objects and for large exterior installations a treatment of the water is inevitable, in order to maintain their attraction and beauty

Your hobby is our passion!

Here you can find all products of ROWA, which are used for aquaristics.
